

STATICIDE ANTI-STATIC WIPES

Get the same great static protection as Staticide in the convenience of a wipe.

Staticide wipes have the same long-lasting protection against static as our Staticide topical liquids but offer a one-step cleaning and static control solution. Ready-to-use, Staticide wipes are ideal in many industries for keeping electronics and office equipment clean and static free.

Unlike some anti-stats, Staticide topicals and wipes are not dependent on humidity to be effective. Staticide will meet MIL-B-81705 for static decay even in dry conditions and low humidity. Staticide wipes are designed to keep equipment such as computers, keyboards, office machines and telephones clean and static free. Regular treatments will help prevent system interruptions & static shocks. Staticide is safe for electronic equipment but it must not be used directly on computer or laptop screens. Since Staticide will prevent dust buildup and dust attraction, screens will keep clean longer. Staticide wipes can also be used on industrial machinery and parts.

Staticide Wipes are available in two handy systems:

SW12 Staticide wipes are individually wrapped for long-lasting shelf life and home office convenience. Great for use in tight spaces.

IW50 Staticide Industrial wipes for applications that call for a large wiper.

SW12 – 24 wipes per box
