

For Immediate Release

12/12/13

ACL Staticide, Inc. is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Bruno Jarzemski as ACL National Outbound Sales Manager effective immediately.

Mr. Jarzemsky brings substantial industry experience to the ACL Staticide team in the areas of new business development, national account management, branch distribution lean operations, and outbound call center management. Bruno will be directly involved in the collective new business development and new market penetration efforts at ACL.

“We are confident Bruno’s vast industry experience and technical sales knowledge within the electronics industry and rework/repair markets will help us in reaching the next level of business performance at ACL” – Steve Allen – ACL VP of Marketing.

Formerly, Bruno held the position of National Sales Support Manager – Stanley Supply & Services and held a variety of management, sales, and operations roles within the Stanley organization. Bruno holds a degree in Electronics Engineering from DeVry Institute.

ACL looks forward to Bruno’s expert contributions in the areas of new business development, new product introduction, and distribution channel positioning.
